PARADISE AWAITS

Perched above the ocean in the shadow of South Africa's most famous mountain range, those who wish to rest their heads at the tip of the African continent check in to The Twelve Apostles Hotel and Spa.

The only property located on the spectacular coastal road that links Cape Town and Camps Bay with Llandudno Beach, Hout Bay and beyond, the Twelve Apostles is the perfect place to watch the sun set into the Atlantic, dine on fine international cuisine, luxuriate in the hotel's award-winning Spa, or relax and enjoy the warm, first-class service.

Opened in 2002, The Twelve Apostles has undergone a number of incarnations, from private home to advertising agency to hotel.

Our location in the environs of a national park demands diligent sustainability practices, which is why we have impressive water-saving initiatives, a system for the management of waste and energy consumption, and have eliminated single-use plastics from our operations.

Our views of the Atlantic Ocean are unequalled anywhere else in the city. Wedged between mountain and sea, our guest experiences range from exhilarating helicopter flights and mountain walks to High Tea by the Sea or a treatment in an outdoor mountain spa gazebo.

Whether you're craving a quiet break with a loved one, a body-and-soul wellness journey, some quality family time, or a gastronomic experience complete with spectacular views, The Twelve Apostles is the perfect multigenerational hotel, complete with warm and personal first-class service.

We can't wait to welcome you to our little slice of paradise.

AN EXCLUSIVE, TRANQUIL LOCATION

Close enough to Cape Town but far enough away from the 'madding crowd', The Twelve Apostles is truly a retreat, while the V&A Waterfront, Camps Bay beaches, the historic Constantia Wine Route, and Hout Bay are all within easy reach via our complimentary car transfer service. The V&A Waterfront is South Africa's most popular destination, attracting millions of visitors every year with its vibrant combination of shops, restaurants, nightspots, tourist attractions, and museums in the city's historic harbour.

When it comes to our guests, no request is too large and no detail too small. We believe in creating thoughtful 'tiny noticeable touches' for our guests, from unique and authentic local experiences and special activities for younger guests to taking care of your VIPs (Very Important Pets). In partnership with our local Tribe Coffee, our knowledgeable 'coffee artists' prepare, decorate, and serve the perfect cup, every time.

With the dramatic Table Mountain National Park and Lion's Head towering behind, and the endless Atlantic Ocean in front, our exclusive, tranquil location is situated on one of the world's most celebrated scenic routes. DISCOVER OUR UNIQUE HISTORY

The first member of the van Breda family came to the Cape in 1721 and over the years the family acquired large tracks of land.

1836

Lord Charles Somerset, Governor of the Cape, gave Michael van Breda a piece of land at Oudekraal on which to build his own hunting lodge.

1929

Jack van Breda designed a handsome house, after the style of Sir Herbert Baker, with two big white frontal gables and a thatched roof. It took two years to build.

1954

Van Breda sold the farm to Sir Henry Philip Price, Chairman of a well-known London tailoring establishment, for £60,000. Price issued instructions for the homestead, and slightly more than one acre of ground (portion 3) was separated from the remainder of the estate.

1955

Emily Bolton purchased portion 3 of the farm, the portion on which the house stood, from Sir Henry. Bolton, a rich English spinster, lived here with her partner, a Mr Butcher. Bolton and Butcher, both regarded as recluses, led strange, solitary lives, and paid no attention to the house, which fell into disarray.

1968

The Wiehahn family bought the surrounding Oudekraal Farm from Sir Henry's estate on 28th May 1968.

1986

Mel Miller, who operated an advertising agency called The White House, bought the house on auction for R405 000.

1992

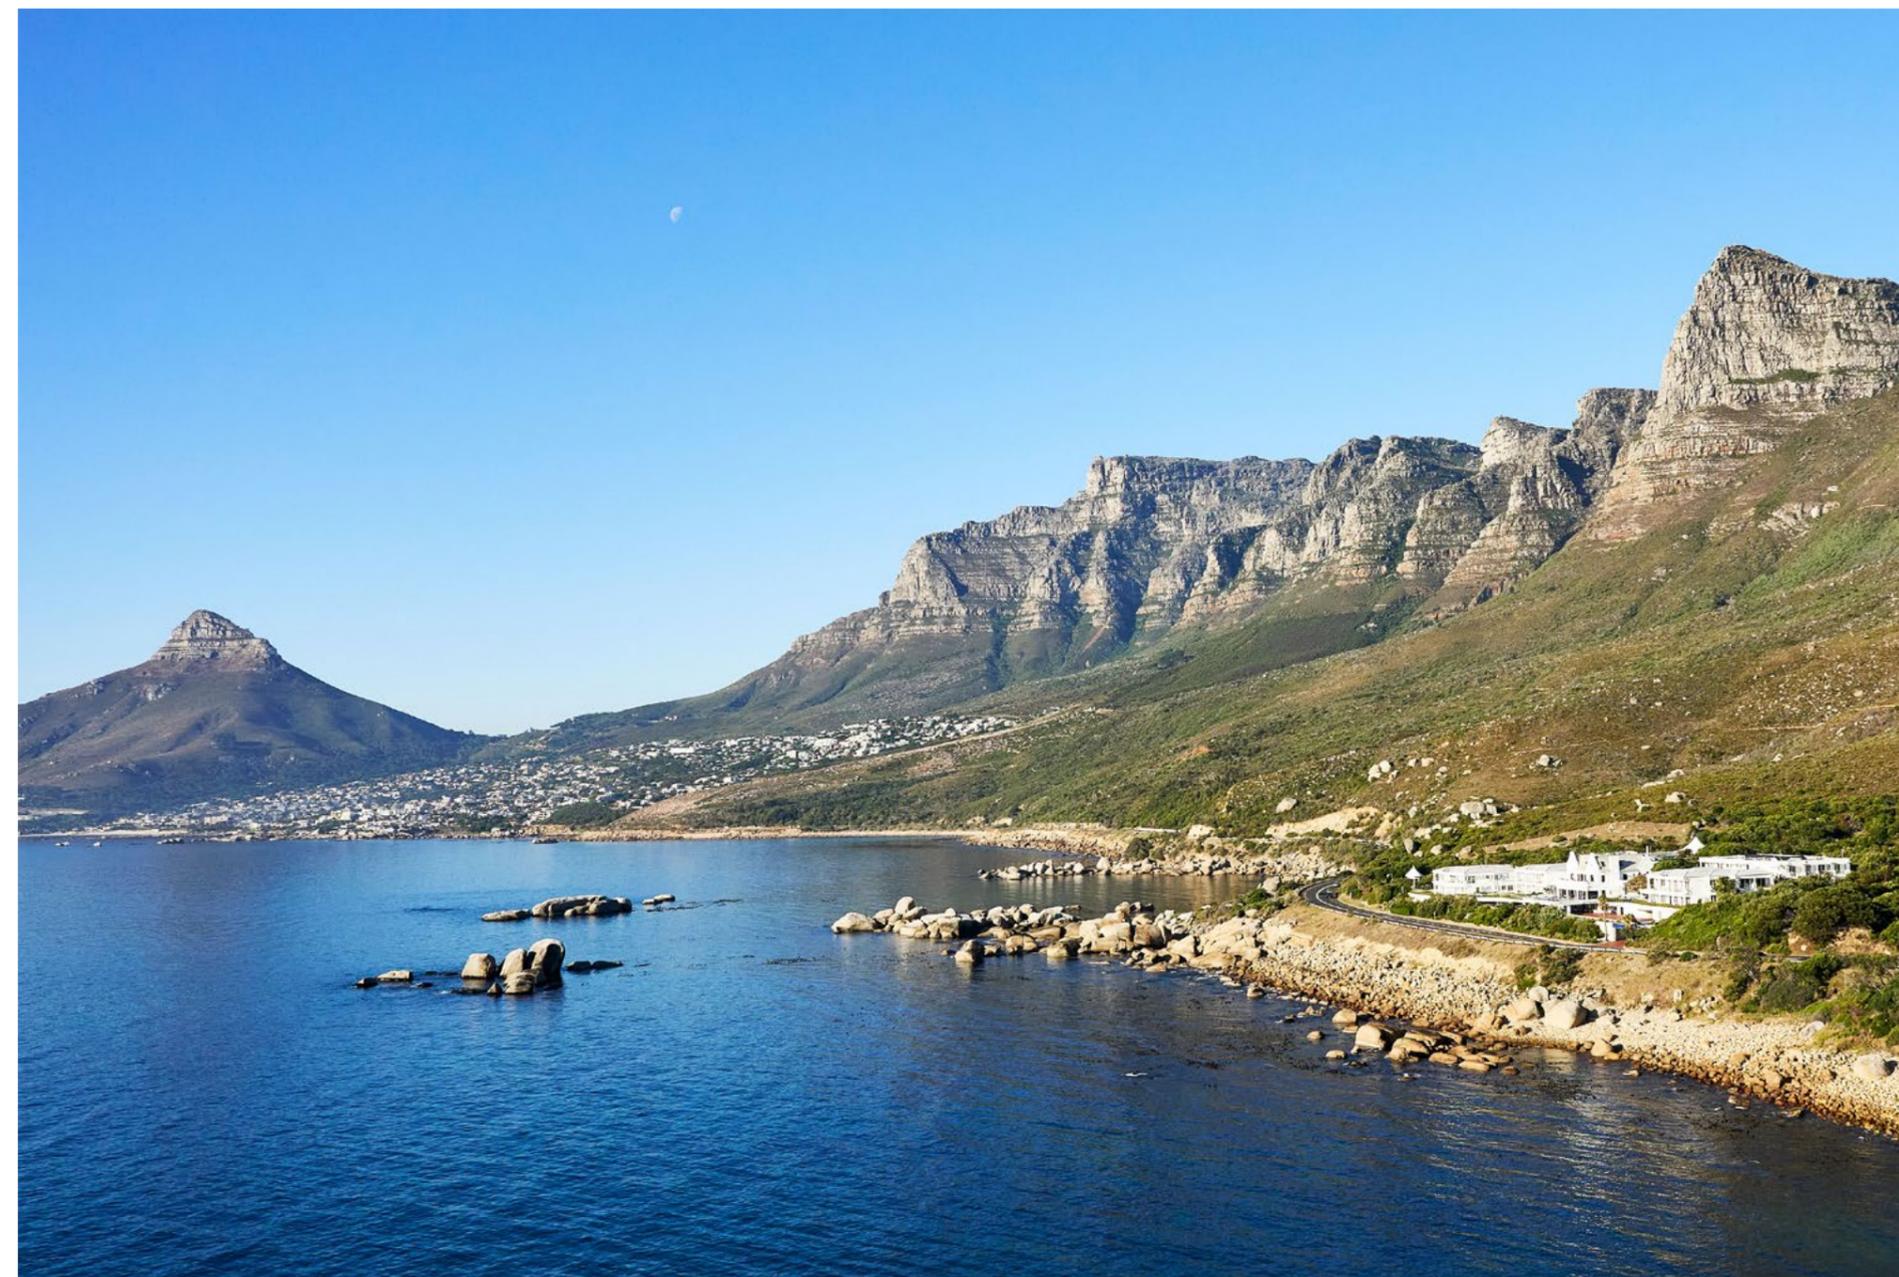

Miller sold the house to the developer Stephen Jones for R3.1 million, who decided, amid great controversy, to build a R40 million hotel and conference centre. Stephen Jones sold the hotel to Business Bank, which was then, along with its assets, sold to PSG Bank.

2002

The hotel became part of the family-owned Red Carnation Hotels and was renamed The Twelve Apostles Hotel and Spa. Within five years the property had been renovated. Around the hotel, invasive plant species were removed, and extensive indigenous gardens were cultivated.

2014-2024

The Twelve Apostles continues to be one of the most decorated hotels in Cape Town. Its accolades include: "Africa's Leading Luxury Hotel" at the World Travel Awards (2019), No. 3 Best City Hotel in Africa in the Travel + Leisure World's Best Awards, and recognition as one of the Best Hotels in the World (2024) by Richard Bangs. The hotel also features annually in the Condé Nast Traveler Readers' Choice Awards.
